VOLUME XXIX NO. 163

SEYMOUR, INDIANA, SATURDAY, JUNE 18, 1910.

PRICE TWO CENTS

HERNZMAN BROS. GET BIG CONTRACT

Total Amount of Lowest Bids on Court House Improvement
Aggregate $78,687.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION

Commissioners Decide Central Heating
Plant Should Be Installed for Three Buildings.

The bids for the improvement of the court house were opened this morning by the county commissioners. The commissioners figured until about 3 o'clock this afternoon upon the various contracts.

The general contract for the improvement, remodeling and erecting additions to the court house was awarded to Hertzman Brothers, of Indianapolis, whose bid was $63,690, the lowest of those submitted. The other bidders for the general contract were:

L. W. Millikan & Co.... $74,540
Albert Von Sprecken.... 79,900
Winship & Son..... 73,629
Isgrigg & Son..... 74,327
W. C. Ball..... 84,651

The commissioners decided to install a central heating plant, which, with the plumbing, will cost $14,061. Lane-Pike Company, of Lafayette, secured the contract. With this plant the court house, jail and poor farm will be heated.

The wiring contract was awarded to Hatfield Electrical Company, of Indianapolis, whose bid was $936. There were also a number of bidders on this contract.

The total cost of the improvement will be $78,687, or over $20,000 more than was first appropriated by the county council.

At a meeting this morning of the county council, an additional $20,000 was appropriated for the improvement. This amount will be used for the construction of the central heating plant and plumbing. The original appropriation was sufficient to cover the general contract price.

The bonds for the $65,000 were sold this morning to the Fletcher National Bank of Indianapolis, for a premium of $680.

There were a number of bidders on the bonds as follows: Gavin, King & Co., $65,513; Reed & Harrison, $65,326; Seymour National Bank, $65,385; J. F. Wild & Co., $65,105.

The improvement on the court house will begin at once and it is believed that the contract can be completed by the first of the year.

First M. E. Church.

The regular services will be held at the First M. E. church Sunday. The pastor has been called out of the city on account of the illness of his mother, and in case he does not return, the pulpit will be filled both morning and evening by Prof. J. C. Edwards. The members are requested to be present at both services tomorrow.

GERMAN LUTHERAN SCHOOL PICNIC WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Excellent Entertainment Given During the Afternoon and Evening at City Park.

The annual picnic of the German Lutheran school was held Friday at the city park, and was one of the most successful that has ever been given by this school. The children left the school about 1 o'clock and, preceded by the Seymour Military band, marched to the park. An excellent program was given in both the afternoon and evening, which was greatly enjoyed by those present.

In the afternoon the program was especially for the children. Marching and drilling by the members of the school were features which delighted the audience. Contests were also arranged in the afternoon, which afforded much amusement.

In the evening the program was heard by a large number of visitors. It consisted of music by the band and songs by the Hænnerchor and mixed choir. Refreshment stands were open for the public and were well patronized. A number of the members prepared lunch, which was served on the grounds at 6 o'clock.

CAREFULLY PLANS DETAILS OF DEATH

Herman Bruner Placed His Head on Rail in Front of Slowly Moving Train on the S. I.

UNUSUAL METHOD OF SUICIDE

Prepared Place Between the Ties for His Head, Which He Expected to be Severed from Body.

After arranging the details for his death with great care, Herman Bruner, of Terre Haute, committed suicide this morning by placing his head in front of the rear wheels of the last coach of train No. 1 on the Southern Indiana, as that train was slowly moving from the city. A passenger saw Bruner deliberately lie down before the wheels and immediately notified Conductor Wilson, who had charge of the train and who gave the signal to stop.

An examination of the surroundings showed one of the most unusual methods of committing suicide that has ever been seen in this part of the state. Before the train reached the place where the suicide occurred, Bruner had scraped out the dirt between the ties and against the rail to the depth of about eight inches, and in the hole carefully placed a large piece of white wrapping paper. Near the place was found a piece of broken tile, with which he had thrown out the dirt. All indications showed that he had expected that he head would be severed from his body and would fall into the hole.

The man was seen standing near the track when the train approached, but no one knew what he intended to do. He allowed several coaches to pass and placed his head on the rail just in front of the rear wheels of the last coach. The train was moving very slowly, as it had just stopped for a railroad crossing.

Conductor Wilson telephoned to the Terre Haute police immediately after the accident, and the body was removed to an undertaking establishment. Buhner lived but a square from the place where he committed suicide. It is said that he had had some domestic trouble, which is believed to have been the cause of his deed. He is survived by his wife and eight children.

The train which is due in this city at 10:25, was delayed about thirty minutes because of the accident.

Several members of the train crew declare that this is the most unusual method for a man to commit suicide, and although they have seen people jump in front of the trains several times, it is the first time they have ever heard of a person making such careful plans for his death.

Parents know how children abhor bad tasting medicine. Youngsters not only need not be coaxed to take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, but they really like it, it's so sweet and palatable. MAKES FARM FLOWER GARDEN.

Ed McDonald Purchases Many Fine Roses for "Rosedale."

Ed McDonald, of this city, who owns a large farm near Uniontown, believes in making his place attractive, and with this end in view has purchased nearly three hundred fine climbing rose bushes with which to beautify his farm. He has set one bush at each fence post about the house and orchard, and also a number along the road. With the order for roses were also received a large number of other flowers which have been arranged in a very attractive manner.

Mr. McDonald is the first man in this part of the state to adopt this manner of beautifying his farm, and it has attracted much attention by those who have seen it. After the roses begin blooming the farm will certainly deserve the name "Rosedale" which has been given to the place.

SUPREME MEETING.

Court of Honor Will Hold State Meeting in Indianapolis Next Week.

The supreme meeting of the Court of Honor will be held in Indianapolis next week. The session will convene on Tuesday and continue until Thursday. A large number of the members of the local lodge are making arrangements to attend this meeting.

On Wednesday evening the contest drills will be held, which is one of the important features of the session. The drill team of the Seymour lodge will not compete in the contest this year.

A. R. Carter, an officer of the local lodge went to Indianapolis this morning to be present at one of the preliminary meetings of the officers of the state organization.

NEGLECT BIRTH RETURNS.

State Board of Health Attacks Law Regarding the Filing of Reports.

The law which permits twenty days in which to make a birth return is characterized as defective in the May bulletin of the State Board of Health. The board recently has been conducting a campaign among health officers and physicians over the state in the interests of promptness in making returns. Birth statistics obtained by the board are always a month late, and there has been in the past a tendency on the part of the physicians to neglect the statistics department altogether.

The May bulletin shows the births occurring in the state during April totaled 4,332.

BUY YOUR GOODS AT HOME

We, the Undersigned Merchants and Business Men of this City, Respectfully Solicit Your Trade, and Hereby Agree to Duplicate any Price made by any Mail Order House Anywhere, Cost of Freight Added and Quality Considered.

We will do better than that on large orders, save you the considerable item on freight. Bring in your bills showing the amount of goods and the quality you desire and get our prices.

After we have given you figures and you do not find them satisfactory we will not ask you to buy from us. All we ask and all that you can ask—a square deal all around. We make this offer in a spirit of fairness and with a view of getting your trade on legitimate lines.

We are a part of the common household that constitutes this great country. We are mutually dependent upon each other for prosperity and we cannot exist as a prosperous, progressive community without the harmonious relations that should exist in one large family. We have our capital invested here. It is a part of the common wealth of the community contributing its share toward the payment of taxes, toward the support of schools and churches, toward the creation of substantial values for farm property and toward the highest welfare of all our people.

It is a matter of common knowledge that a large sum of money is being diverted from the local channels of trade annually and being sent to the mail order concerns of the large cities by many of our citizens. This money is forever lost to the county and represents a drain that can never be filled. The goods that are purchased of such houses can be as cheaply purchased here and all that we ask is an opportunity to convince you of the truth of this. Try us on your next order.

All who have the welfare of the city and country at heart are respectfully urged to assist us in defending the common welfare of our town and country against the encroachment of this evil by doing their trading at home, by supporting all our local business and industrial institutions, all things being equal. It will help every one of us. No person in the county, however obscure his station, will fail to enjoy the benefits that are sure to accrue. It is a fight against one of the most iniquitous systems of modern business graft.

HUB CLOTHES ARE BEST

The following are a fair sample of the bargains (?) that you get from these Mail Order Houses and Boxcar Wholesale concerns:

Bargain Clothing

Assembled at New York early in the season were the heads of several of the largest manufacturers of Clothing. The firms represented make a specialty of manufacturing nothing but all wool goods. At this meeting a piece of Clothing obtained from one of these Mail Order Houses was submitted for inspection which was listed in their catalogue as an All Wool garment. It was a beautiful pattern, apparently all wool, of a superior grade of fineness. It was passed around the circle, and was universally commended. Having gone this far, a boiler was produced, the garment was put into it to make the final test.

In this boiler is a liquid preparation that is harmless to cotton, but will eat up all the wool submitted to it. If a piece of wool cloth is placed in this test not a shred of it will remain. In the case in point the cloth was found to be as perfect after the test as before. The wool lint blown into the cotton body was destroyed, but the cotton remained and stood confessed, conclusive evidence against as clever a piece of shoddy goods as could well be imagined.

The business of "wool blowing" cotton goods has become very profitable and extensive one. From these shoddy mills Mail Order Houses and Boxcar Wholesale concerns draw heavily for their bargains. By dint of liberal advertising and reckless statements suits made from this stuff are worked off on the public as a real value. Suits are advertised as marked down from $12 to $5.88 when as a matter of fact no reputable dealer would dare handle the goods at any price and the profit to the big concern on the shoddy goods is much greater than the retail man could make on a legitimate sale.

Bargain Groceries

One of the worst features of the Mail Order Houses and Boxcar Wholesale concerns' style of business is the way in which it is leading to the adulteration of food products. In the zeal of these concerns to throw out a bait, staple groceries are advertised very cheap, below the cost of the genuine article in many instances. This is done by having manufacturers prepare certain special brands of spices, flavoring extracts, baking powders, ground coffee, jellies, preserves, pickles, etc., in which cheap foreign substances predominate. Some states have already enacted stringent laws against the practice and investigation into the methods of certain manufacturers has revealed the alarming extent to which food products are adulterated. Of course the manufacturers do not put their name on these goods, and the people buy them because they are cheap, out of regard for their pockets and without a thought of their stomachs. There is no doubt that the prevalence of dyspepsia is due largely to this cause. For every dollar that can be saved by buying cheap groceries of these concerns ten bills will have to be paid out for doctor bills and for medicines.

To such a pass has the adulteration idea gone that it is practiced largely in the preparation of medicines, so that when the dyspeptic, made so by adulterated food products sold him by these concerns, goes to the drug department of the same concerns for medicine to relieve his distress he is treated with adulterated medicines.

The argument is advanced sometimes that the Mail Order Houses and Boxcar Wholesale concerns are not the only ones that sell adulterated goods. But they are to blame that they are sold anywhere. They inaugurated the bargain craze which has spread over the country like a pestilence, and then other dealers, in some instances self-defense, put in the cheap goods in an effort to hold trade. There is, however, this difference, the Mail Order Houses and Boxcar Wholesale concerns will insure you that they are the best manufactured and absolutely pure, while your legitimate dealer will tell you the truth, that they are an inferior article and impure, put up to sell cheap, and that if you want the genuine thing it will cost you a living price.

Bargain Dry Goods

One of the largest concerns in the world, a shoddy mill, makes a business of purchasing rags from all over the world to be worked up into "reclaimed wool." Acres of sheds are piled full of these rags, which are sorted, sent through a chemical preparation which reversing the order elsewhere described destroys the cotton but does not effect the wool. This wool is then torn into shreds and a certain amount of pure wool mixed with the mess. This is then put through a process and the whole made into very attractive shoddy yarn. Thousands of yards of these goods are daily woven and manufactured into underclothing, and all sorts of wearing apparel and sold exclusively to Mail Order Houses and Box Car Wholesale concerns. A very attractive appearing underest "marked down from 50 cents to 19 cents" may have in its particles of a discarded pest house blanket, some gutter rags and a trifling sprinkling of an unprestigious Chio sheep. The thread with which it is sewn may be, and often is, the "reclaimed" particles of a bandage from an ulcer, cast out from hospitals and sold to the rag-picker, to go through the process and come out in new form to become the nearest garment to my lady's person.

There is but one protection for the public. Purchase of the legitimate dealer who sells his goods for what they are, and leaves the hospital remnants in the sheds of the factory.

Blood-Stained Bargains

The following are excerpts from a sermon preached by Rev. Cortland Meyer, of the Baptist Temple, New York city, on every day topics. Among other things he said:

"I have seen in many stores the weights and measures which will stand the test of the judgment throne, but there are certain methods in vogue today in Mail Order Houses which are contrary to the welfare of society and in opposition to every sentence in the word of God. You will see in these places of business an altar to the false god of gold. Before this great god a large part of our population are lying with their faces in the dust. By this false God the rich are cursed and the poor are crushed.

The bargains in these concerns are also part of this altar. I have seen blood marks upon it. From whence do bargains come? Do they drop from the skies to the counter? Ah, no! They come from the homes and the hands and hearts of the poor. There was a time when the price was but one factor in the sale. It is now almost everything. This spirit of getting something for less than cost has permeated all commerce. Bargains are the lode stone of attractions. The starvation of the sewing women is the complement of the bargain counter.

"There is nothing on earth so cheap as flesh and blood, because it never touches a limit of cost. This fact of suffering humanity is ringing the bell of justice; let the city hear its solemn tones. From garret and tenement and hovel and factory it rings above the mad rush for gold. It tells the sad story of thousands, and tens of thousands in a single city in hunger and cold working their lives out at the machines or losing their blood by the piercings of the needle that the few might have more.

"Heart-breaking despair have I seen again and again those lives and homes As long as this gold god continues to be worshipped, the scorching days of summer and the marrow-piercing days of winter will hear the cry of the white-faced children starving for bread and shivering in rags. Cruel, unhuman, blood thirsty idol—the cause of untold suffering and unblushing crime, the murderer of bodies, the shatterer of brains, the breaker of hearts, the destroyer of souls.

Rev. Dr. Mackey, of All Saints Episcopal church, of Omaha, recently in an able sermon, said: "There are many problems arising today to confront men. Among these is the enormous increase of wealth and its evil effects. The trend of this problem is along lines which make it most alarming and which point to a future condition of affairs which should be opposed with every fibre of our being. The great trouble today is that we have divorced religion and the affairs of the world. The man of today comes to church Sunday after Sunday and calls himself and is called a religious man.

Then he goes to his business on Monday and cuts out all of his religion. There is where the great mistake is made. We cannot separate religion and business.

The tendency of today seems to be but one thing—the amassing of great wealth. Love of money is predominating everything. If the love of money is for the good it can do, the suffering it can alleviate and the betterment of the world it can bring about, then there is no wrong in loving it. But if the love for money is for the power it brings, the social position it gives, then it is wrong. It is palling what the effects of the rush after wealth bring about today. We cannot take up a paper but what we read of the suicide of bank cashiers who have been tempted; then we read of the great trusts, oppressing and crushing everything. All of these things point to the pernicious influence of getting of great wealth by and every means.

"The men who pile up great wealth must be money mad. They make a little money and go mad with the lust of getting more. A bank president in New York says it is degrading to think of nothing but money getting. If that wealth is to be used in helping the world, all right. We have no right to say to a man that he has no right to make money, or that his ability to make money is not God-given. But we have a right to condemn him for his method of getting it; He has no right to crush and throttle others and trample them under his feet and snatch their gains for himself.

Bargain Drugs

The Mail Order House drugs are a snare, a delusion, a menace. The registered prescription help employed in these houses are young men with little experience, who are paid salaries that no retail druggist would have the effrontery to offer a competent man. Other help are paid salaries commensurate with the average in other departments. A few brands of really excellent articles are sold at from five to ten cents below the usual retail price, leaving a small margin of profit. But on the "Bargains (?) especially in proprietary articles, the label or brand is no criterion as to their purity. Drugs and herbs that have lost their savor through age and exposure. Tinctures weakened by dilution, pellets and ingredients masquerading under the guise of honest wares—the "Bargains" offered by Mail Order Houses and Box Car Wholesale concerns. Preparations are compounded short in weight or quantity; bismuth or other colorless or harmless powders are mixed with costly drugs; camphor water is sold for spirits of camphor; ammonias for household use are so weak as to be useless in grease-stained kitchen sinks; in fact, with the exception of a few genuine articles, to give the concern a good name, the compounds and articles are fraudulent.

The remedy for this evil lies with the druggists, wholesale as well as retail. Let them unite in refusing to handle the goods of any chemist or manufacturer who furnishes goods to these concerns. The combined business of your druggists means much to the manufacturers of drugs and proprietary articles—more than the patronage of these concerns. Organization on the part of local druggists will bring about the result. When the public learns that first-class articles cannot be obtained at these concerns then, and not till then, will the public wholly patronize the retail druggist.

Picture Goods

"Do you remember the 'sight unseen' trade or 'swaps' of boyhood? One of the parties to the transaction usually got the worst of it, didn't he? And it wasn't usually the one who proposed the deal, was it? There's a lot of the same sort of 'sight unseen' trading going on today. Only nowadays it is called Buying By Mail.

"The pictures in the advertisements of the mail order houses look nice; the talk sounds nice; and sometimes the deal turns out all right. But even supposing that it does—wherein is the buyer any better off than if he had bought of a home merchant? Take any article you choose from the long list of things sold by mail and you can buy it just as cheaply and just as well here at home. The expense of selling it by mail is just as great as, if not greater than the expense of mailing it over the counter.

"Where we have rent, taxes and clerk hire to pay, the mail order dealer has all those—and rents and taxes are higher in the large cities than here—and in addition he has to pay a small army of bookkeepers, stenographers, shipping clerks and other employees besides the immense cost of advertising.

"Did you know that in many of what are called the mail order advertising mediums advertisements cost from $42 to $85 an inch in a single column? It is true. Where does all the profit come from out of which to pay all this?

"We can do our business on a smaller margin of profit than the mail order dealer can; we know our people and their desires and we know that we have sold and will sell better goods for the money than the other fellow does. Next time you are attracted by an ad of some small mail order 'bargain' just bring it right to us and let us have a chance to beat it. That's only neighborly and fair and if we lose we won't say a word."

Are Not Your Friend

The great Mail Order House is not the friend of the farmer, nor anyone else, as it pretends to be. It cannot sell goods, on the average, at rates lower than the retailer can offer the same quality, when the item of freight is considered. This has been demonstrated more than once and can be demonstrated at any time if the customer will take his catalogue price and the cost of transporting and then compare the total with the home merchant's price. The catalogue house is under heavy expense for advertising. This expense must come out of its profits. Can it afford to meet these great advertising bills and also deliver goods sold by the retailer? Besides this, it is under immense expense for outlays in stock, for taxes, salaries and other items which the retailer does not have to meet. Obviously its expenses are enormous compared with the retailer's bill. In addition, it takes the patron's money and does him no favors. The retailer will, if requested, lend one his reliable customers a sum of money for a few days. Will the Catalogue House do this? The retailer shows his goods before one buys. The Catalogue House does not. The retailer's reputation is behind every sale he makes. The Catalogue House is beyond the individual criticism. The retailer pays the farmer almost as much for his produce as the farmer pays the retailer for his purchases. The Catalogue House can not do this, and would not if it could. In short, it is a cut throat institution, conducted by shrewd men who are out for money and nothing else. The sooner these facts are appreciated the better the people who now deal with them will be off.

The Mail Order Houses do not sell any cheaper than your home merchant but they do destroy your home town.

Bargain Jewelry

A gold watch is offered, claimed to be 14k gold-filled screw cases, guaranteed for 15 years' wear, with a vanguard movement. "Our very special price, $39.40, much lower than sold by jewelers."

The fact is that this identical line of watches is sold by jewelers everywhere at $31.50, and this is the price at the very best and most reliable firms in your city, where the purchaser is absolutely certain of getting fair value for his money. The purchase of this watch at a reliable store has also the advantage that the jeweler examines carefully every watch to see that the manufacturer has not overlooked anything and stands guard between the manufacturer and consumer. The jeweler who understands his business buys only what can be relied on, leaving the wasteful and defective article for the Mail Order House, who has no further interest in his goods than to sell them and try and make the people believe they are great benefactors, while in almost every transaction they are proved monstrous deceivers.

It is especially true that there is not an article in the jewelry line offered for sale by these concerns that your home jeweler cannot furnish you at the same price, if not lower, if you want that kind of goods.

Bargain Hardware

When it comes to this line of goods there is no limit to the frauds that they resort to. Most every article in this line that is listed by these concerns is based upon fraud.

A farmer in looking over one of these concern's catalogues not long since, noticed that the price on nails was very low, and, having use for some, his wife also urged him to get her a "steel range." So he sent an order for one keg of nails and the range. We are reliably informed that the range is now in the old scrap iron pile, and that the Mail Order House made two dollars on the range for every cent they lost on the nails.

The railroad companies lately have been considerably annoyed by claims made for breakage of stoves and ranges shipped from the big Mail Order Houses. An investigation made shows that many of these job lot concerns send out stoves so slighted in the making or such poor iron that the least jar breaks them. Cheapest cast-iron is used where good steel should be and the castings are made so light that the stoves are of little value.

When buying goods remember that every kind and class of goods have a real value, and this is based upon the cost of the raw materials; the price of the labor in producing it and the cost of marketing. Whenever there are big bargains offered in any line be careful and see that you are not getting an inferior article. When good steel ranges are worth $40 to $50 it would be a foolish farmer who would think he was getting the best for $27.50. It is an actual fact that it costs two and one-half times as much to build a good steel range than it costs to mould one of those Mail Order House fraud ranges.

SATURDAY, JUNE 18, 1910

Some time ago a number of the friends of Governor Marshall were boozing him for President. Now they declare that he would make an excellent Vice-President. The public is waiting for the next step.

Some of the Democrats in the state are endeavoring to make the people believe that the accusation of John W. Kern regarding the bribery charge is of little importance, but the public will not so regard the matter. It is the popular opinion that the truth should be known, and unless the charge is either proven or corrected Kern will meet with overwhelming defeat. The people of Indiana want men in the United States senate who will stand for the truth and are willing to tell of such charges rather than conceal them.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Much Interest Noted In the Coming Twelfth District Convention.

(Special Correspondence.)

Indianapolis, June 18.—When the Twelfth district Republican congressional convention meets at Kendallville June 25, the name of Judge O. N. Heaton will be presented to the delegates. Judge Heaton's many friends believe that he will be nominated, and they are enthusiastically certain that he will be elected, if he is nominated. More than that, they are saying that Judge Heaton will do himself and his state great credit at Washington, if he is honored by his district with leadership. Republicans of Fort Wayne argue that with Judge Heaton on the Congressional ticket, Allen county will go Republican, and not only the county tickets in the district, but the legislative tickets, including that in Allen county, will be greatly strengthened and aided to success. Judge Heaton is acceptable to all elements of the Republican party in the Twelfth. He is a vote-getter, an organizer, and a natural leader. C. C. Gilhams, former congressman, has not been heard from as to his attitude towards the congressional prize. Mr. Gilhams is being strongly boosted for the next Republican nomination for governor, and it is possible that he will be a factor when Northern Indiana asks for that nomination in 1912.

Champ Clark explained that the amendment was a Democratic doctrine pure and simple. Dalzell told how it was a regular plan, and Victor Murdoch explained that it was entirely insurgen. All this effort to establish legitimate parentage seemed to tickle the house to the limit, and the occasion throughout wore anything but a serious and solemn aspect.

RARE UNANIMITY
MARKED THE VOTE

Only One Member Held Out Against New Rules.

THE HOUSE AT LAST PACIFIED

Regulars, Insurgents and Democrats
Alike Agree Upon Method of Extricating the House From the Situation
It Has Found Itself In Ever Since
Revolt Against Rules Committee Begun,

Washington, June 18.—Joining hands with rare unanimity, the regular Republicans, the insurgent Republicans and Democrats of the house adopted an amendment to the rules of the body which all factions declared was a long step in the right direction. One lone member, Representative Rucker of Missouri, a Democrat, voted against the rule. He denounced it backwards and forwards and sideways, working himself into a passion during the performance and finally frankly admitting that his principal objection to the rule lay in the fact that Cannon, Dalzell, Payne and Smith were for it. He rambled around and filled the air with violence for ten crowded minutes. The house sat back and laughed at him. His own colleagues seemed more amused than even the Republicans. Rucker was seconded by Representative Sims in his denunciation of the proposition of which the committee for the first time in the memory of man made a unanimously favorable report. But when the time came to vote Mr. Sims lost his nerve and Rucker stood alone. The love feast that resulted in the adoption of this new amendment to the rules, which permits the house to discharge any committee from the consideration of a bill after a certain time and under certain conditions was much in the nature of a burlesque on the big fight of March 19, when the speaker was eliminated from the rules committee and when an attempt was made to drag him down from his place. It is true that Republicans, insurgents and Democrats filled the air with loud sounds for an hour, but excitement was lacking, for all spoke to the same effect.

Champ Clark explained that the amendment was a Democratic doctrine pure and simple. Dalzell told how it was a regular plan, and Victor Murdoch explained that it was entirely insurgen. All this effort to establish legitimate parentage seemed to tickle the house to the limit, and the occasion throughout wore anything but a serious and solemn aspect.

A GREAT FLIGHT

Youthful Aviator Broke All Records
For Altitude.

Indianapolis, June 18.—A new world's record flight of 4,803 feet altitude was made here last evening by Walter S. Brookins, youthful aviator, who has been a pupil of Wilbur and Orville Wright for the last three months. Starting at 6:30 p.m., in a Wright biplane, he accomplished the most remarkable feat of the kind yet recorded. At the end of an hour two experts who were keeping the measurement announced that Brookins was 4,803 feet above the ground. The aircraft appeared to falter and stand still then, but for only an instant. Then it started to drop like a rocket. The aviators who were watching the feat said with a shudder that Brookins' engine had stopped.

For what seemed a thousand feet he fell with great velocity, then he managed to head the biplane down. Apparently he was trying to glide back into the course, but he was unsuccessful. He landed safely in a field a mile away without any injury to his car.

Commander Peary has returned from his European trip.

HIS HEART IS FULL OF APPRECIATION

Roosevelt Acknowledges The Fine Time He Has Had.

New York, June 18.—Colonel Roosevelt said: "I have been away from America a year and a quarter, and while I enjoyed my trip through Africa, I have been much more greatly pleased with my experience in Europe. In fact, I fail to see how anyone under any circumstances could have had a more interesting or pleasant trip than the one which has fallen to my lot. I wish to express my very deep appreciation of the more than general courtesy and hospitality which has been extended to me by the people and the rulers of the different countries through which I have passed. Of course I am very glad to get home. I appreciate deeply the kindness of the multitude of friends who have asked me to speak in different places, but I hope that they will understand that it is a physical impossibility for me even to consider the acceptance of more than one in a hundred of these invitations. I shall not speak for more than two months after my arrival home, and my first appearance in that way will be at the John Brown celebration in Kansas. After that I will go to the frontier gathering at Cheyenne, then to the conservation congress at St. Paul, and one or two other places. Positively, I shall have nothing to say in the near future about politics and will give no interviews on that subject. Everything purporting to be a talk with me that may appear in the papers can be safely set down at once as invention.

A THOUSAND DROWNED

Floods in Hungary Have Caused Unprecedented Loss of Life.

Vienna, June 18.—Nearly a thousand deaths are reported to have been caused by the floods in Hungary, which exceed all records. It is probable that the worst is not known. The roads, railroads and telegraphs have been destroyed. Thousands of sheep, cattle and horses were drowned. The rivers are choked with their bodies, trees and wreckage of houses. In some villages practically every building has been swept away. Thousands of acres of crops have been carried off. The population is in a condition of despair.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulators free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

GOLDSBORO

HEARD FROM

A Lady Who Lives in Goldsboro Joins in the Chorus of Praise for Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Goldsboro, N. C.—"A physician treated me for many distressing symptoms," writes Mrs. Etta A. Smith, "but gave me no relief."

"I suffered with neuralgia around the heart and was troubled at times with my head. I had pain in my left side, bowels, left thigh, shoulders and arms."

"After taking Cardui, I am now well and can recommend it to other suffering women."

Just such doubtful symptoms, as those from which Mrs. Smith suffered, are the ones for which it will pay you to take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

It is at such times, when there is nothing to show, for certain, the real cause of the trouble, that you need a tonic, to give the body strength to throw off the illness that evidently threatens.

Take Cardui, when you are ill, with the ailments of your sex. Take Cardui as a tonic, to prevent illness, when you feel it coming.

Your druggist keeps it.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women" sent in plain wrapper on request.

GILLETTS ATTITUDE IS UNCOMPROMISING

Fight Promoters Feel a Premonition of Defeat.

San Francisco, June 17.—Tex Rickard, Gleason and other fight promoters are all up in the air in regard to holding the big fight in Frisco. Rickard feels a premonition of defeat. He said very gloomily that he would abide by the decision of the court. If an injunction against the Langford-Kaufman fight is granted, then he would make immediate arrangements to remove the fight to Nevada.

instruction. The tendency of the country districts, the towns and smaller cities is to exhibit losses, while the larger cities show the gains.

The chief increases in counties are in Marion, St. Joseph, Lake, Vigo, Laporte, Grant, Delaware, Vanderburgh and Madison. Sixty-four counties in the state show a loss, while twenty-eight show a gain. While there has been a gain, as compared with last year, the figures of 1910 are 9,706 lower than the 1908 figures and 20,952 lower than the 1907 enumeration.

Race suicide, a more careful enumeration and migration to the cities are assigned as the reasons the totals do not show up well compared with former years.
